Dear Parents and Carers,

As you are aware from Mr Clark's letter, he has announced his retirement at the end of the December 2018. We would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr Clark for his leadership, dedication and for creating a positive community ethos in his role of Headteacher at Melksham Oak.

We would also like to give you information about the leadership structure in the school following Mr Clark's retirement. Mr Aidan Blowers will be the school principal (Headteacher) from the beginning of term 2, week beginning Monday 5th November. This will give Mr Blowers the opportunity and time to install his vision and expectations on the quality of teaching and learning in the school. He will be assisted by the current senior leadership team. To aid the smooth transition of leadership, Mr Clark will undertake a supportive role during term 2.

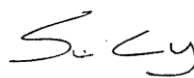

Mr Blowers is an experienced leader, having worked not only at Melksham Oak but other local schools as a senior member of staff with the key responsibility of improving standards of teaching and learning.

Mr Blowers will clarify his vision and expectations for the school for the remainder of the academic year in a letter to you in week beginning 5th November.

Yours sincerely
